

DEPT. OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS -OBJECTIVES – OUTCOMES CONNECTIVITY MATRIX

OBJECTIVES→ OUTCOMES↓	Possess a working knowledge of key concepts and theories of Political Science and International Relations	Be able to understand local, national and global issues and approach the problems from an interdisciplinary and critical perspective	Possess strong research skills and in-depth knowledge of research methods	Have an improved sense of active citizenship aware of their political, social, professional and ethical responsibilities	Comprehend the significance of creativity as well as sociological and political imagination
Demonstrate knowledge of the main theories, ideas and concepts associated with Political Science and International Relations and apply theoretical and conceptual knowledge on topics of International Relations.
Acquire an interdisciplinary perspective based on the synthesis of related disciplines (sociology, economics, psychology, law, history...).
Think critically and creatively, including the ability to formulate clear and logically coherent questions and arguments regarding local, national and global politics.
Make policy analysis regarding political and social developments individually and/or in interdisciplinary teams
Acquire in-depth knowledge on research methods and academic ethics and use this knowledge in conducting theoretical and/or empirical research projects
Identify ethical issues in local, domestic and international politics and implement social, scientific and professional codes of ethical conduct.
Identify and follow credible social science literature and develop skills to utilize diverse types of information sources.
Demonstrate high skills in oral and written communication both in Turkish and English and apply non-discriminative language.
Use a second foreign language (aside English) at an intermediate or high level of proficiency.
Appreciate the plurality of and respect for differences of opinion, lifestyles, cultural practices and identities.
Practice good working habits, time management and self-discipline with a strong vision of social responsibility.
Engage in life-long learning and enrich personal, social and professional development by exploring interests in diverse disciplines.					